GORINI

Things are never the same. Time transforms and marks them. A river of events leaves some scars, more or less deep, on people, things and places. However, beauty never disappears completely and is visible to the eyes of those who know its rules. We respect time and know that nothing lasts forever, but despite this, we do our best to create pieces of furniture that continue to be connected to our tradition. Our experience is ancient and we have a deep knowledge of our work. We love to create with our hands. We create products that look at the future respecting the noble tradition of Italian handicraft.
